

Former head of PKO BP joins MCI Capital

11.02.2022

Zbigniew Jagiełło, former head of PKO Bank Polski, will become the head of the Supervisory Board of MCI Capital. He will actively support MCI in investments in fintechs and insurtechs.

- There is a stereotype that supervisory boards in Poland are a place that is not fully defined, where you do not know what you earn for. I have a different approach to it: I intend to operate in the Anglo-American non-executive board member formula, i.e. to actively support the development of MCI and the international expansion of the fund – says Zbigniew Jagiełło to Puls Biznesu. More: <https://www.pb.pl/mci-zrekrutowalo-zbigniewa-jagielle-1140977>