

MCI Capital and Tomasz Czechowicz as a daily headline in Forbes Hungary

10.11.2023

In practice, Tomasz Czechowicz introduced Poles to computers - informs Hungarian Forbes. Today, he leads one of the largest technology-focused investment funds in the region. He plans to invest millions of euros in our region - including in Hungary. So far, he has sold his portfolio companies to giants such as Intel Corporation, PayPal or Naspers Limited.

In 1998, he established his investment fund, MCI Capital. Today, they manage 600 million euros in assets - we can read. According to Forbes Polska, MCI it is the 86th most valuable Polish company.

According to a domestic transaction consultant quoted in the article, he is "the biggest insider in Central and Eastern Europe".

Read more: <https://forbes.hu/uzlet/mci-capital-tomasz-czechowicz-lengyelorszag-befekteto-exkluziv-interju/> (EN Google translation in a .pdf file: Forbes.hu).