

Real Deals about MCI's investments plans

27.02.2023

“We expect about €300-500m worth of dry powder for investments between 2023 and 2025, which we’re looking to deploy within the next three years. I think there will be more transactions in CEE, so we’re hoping to benefit from that” – says Tomasz Czechowicz, CEO of MCI Capital in an interview with Real Deals.

“Given our average deal size, which is €30-60m, we should be making around three-plus deals per year for the next three years, which is a pretty ambitious plan. Regarding fund size, we’re currently at €600m evergreen and aiming to reach our objective of €1bn by 2025 or 2026. We may have some exits in 2023, but that’s not the major focus. Our focus is on growing the value of our current portfolio, and new investments”.
